EXPERIENCE

Johnson & Johnson

Raritan, NJ

Application Developer Co-Op

June 2023 – Present

- Transformed the Global J&J Labeling data strategy by implementing Power BI analytics, creating a single source of truth interactive dashboard across 8 platforms and 3 franchises, which significantly enhanced the data strategy and decision-making, as evidenced by a successful proof of concept demo presented to executive management, leading to their commitment to further development.
- Spearheaded the design, development, and launch of a new homepage for a global supply chain labeling operations platform (RSC), addressing the issues of poor screen resolution/layout responsiveness and overlapping graphics, resulting in increased functionality and reduced latency by 50%.
- Executed the development and implementation of a comprehensive all-in-one platform by collaborating with the Intelligent Automation team, resulting in the elimination of repetitive data entries, and delivering users a guided and informed journey throughout the IA process.
- Saved $20,000 by configuring 3 workstations across 3 countries and redesigning the RSC product line's logo by deploying it into our team's digital assets.
- Achieved redefining team's technical backlog and sprint cleanups by conducting 8 stakeholder interviews, leading to team process and product improvement opportunities.
